

Dear Mr. Cunningham and Colleagues

Apparently UNC football players have decided Final Exams are the perfect time to demonstrate their privilege and their immunity to the rules that apply to all of the rest of us, on campus and in our community. Attached are photos of cars taking up ALL of the handicapped spaces behind Wilson/Mitchell Halls or by the Stone Center just in the last two days. All of our efforts to get some effective action on this have failed. Parking may even be issuing tickets but nothing is having any effect, including what I think were genuine efforts by Mr. Cunningham. They also continue to race down Belltower Drive and South Road—I saw the famous purple car exiting yesterday, engine revving. I guess when an innocent bystander is killed this will get some attention but then it will be too late.
